DREAM CAME TRUE for 11-year-old Sylvia June Upshaw, of Indianapolis, bedridden with rheumatic fever, when her favorite movie star, Roy Rogers, dropped in yesterday, that brilliant five-hit, 8 to 3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox in the first pennant playoff game in American League history. And all season long, it was Leman and not Feller who was the belted pitcher of a pitching staff that the gangling girl who had set out for in baseball—except one time.

HE PITCHES IN WORLD SERIES

Feller's Boyhood Dream Comes True Tomorrow

By CARL LUNDQUIST
BOSTON, Oct. 5.—(CP)—The burning dream, that was born when he rode behind a plow in an Iowa corn field and which was kept alive through 12 years as a major leaguer was about to come true today for football Bobby Feller—greatest pitcher of modern times.

He was about to pitch in a world series, a privilege previously denied him because his harrowing greatness was wasted on a club that couldn't measure up to his own standard of brilliance.

And now, as his Cleveland Indians battled the Boston Braves in the world series, it was ironic indeed that Feller was not the hero of their pennant triumph.

Instead he sat quietly and almost sadly in the background while two other kid pitchers, Lefty Gomez and Satchel Paige, battled for Cleveland's first pennant since 1920.

For it was Gomez and not Feller who pitched the clincher yesterday, that brilliant five-hit, 8 to 3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox in the first pennant playoff game in American League history.

Toronto Star Loses Appeal

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada today upheld an Ontario Appeal Court judgment which ordered a new trial in a libel suit brought against the Toronto Daily Star by Premier Drew of Ontario.

The court dismissed with costs an appeal by the Star against the Ontario court decision. The Ontario court found that the Star had published a defamatory article about Premier Drew. The court ordered a new trial because the original trial was flawed by procedural errors.

The case arose from editorial by the Star published during the 1948 election campaign. The article was alleged to have defamed Premier Drew. The Ontario court found in favor of the plaintiff, and the Supreme Court has now upheld that decision.

The appeal to the Supreme Court was heard last April. The court's decision is a significant ruling in the area of libel and media freedom.

Russians Intend To Boycott Talks Before Council

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(BUP)—The United Nations Security Council, over the bitter objections of Russia, voted today by 9 to 2 to give a full public airing to the Berlin dispute. Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky immediately announced that Russia will boycott the council's debate of the issue.

Taking the floor immediately after the vote, Vishinsky said that it will be completely impossible for the Soviet delegation to take part in the deliberations of the Security Council on the Berlin issue.

The Soviet delegation wishes to state that it will not participate in the deliberations of the Security Council on the Berlin issue.

Twister is Headed For Florida Keys

HAVANA, Oct. 5.—(BUP)—Hurricane winds reaching 130 miles an hour spread death, injury and destruction through this Cuban capital city of 500,000 persons early today and then headed for Florida.

At least seven persons, including two children, were killed here, and scores were injured. Property destruction and damage ran into unestimated millions of dollars. The casualty tolls were rising as shattered communications slowly were being re-established.

Hospitals reported at 9:30 a.m. that they had had 100 injured persons, seven or more in serious condition. Other scores received first aid for minor injuries and were released.

Passing Havana at about 6 a.m., the hurricane headed north-north-east at about 10 miles an hour, with southern Florida directly in its path.

VERY SEVERE
In Washington, a weather bureau advisory said that the hurricane, described as "very severe," will drive through most of the Everglades-Okeechobee area and along the coast as far as Jupiter, Fla. tonight, if it continues on its present course.

Hurricane force winds are feared through Miami at the end of the storm, which is expected to reach the Florida Keys shortly before noon.

Other gales of the storm were blowing in gusts from the north-north-east. Still further north, winds were expected in the winter resort capital before 5 p.m.

The whirling center of the storm followed the path of the $25,000,000 hurricane that roared up (Continued on page 2)

McLean said the boat was on a mission boat, was reported, was on route from Port Renfrew, B.C., to Victoria, B.C., and was last seen at 10:30 p.m. on Monday.

Two of the McLean children, David, 21, and Shirley, 19, had been on the boat last week to attend school at Three Hills, Alta.

Dr. McLean has been working for some years on the west coast of Vancouver Island, where he is affiliated with the Shantymen's Christian Association.

Cleveland Fans Stage Al-Night Celebration

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5.—(AP)—This city, after biting its fingernails down to the second knuckle last week for the Indians' delay in their attempt to win the American League pennant, was a dejected mess today.

A celebration, set off by the 82,000 fans who gathered in the stadium last night for the Indians' first game of the season, was a dejected mess today.

To a casual visitor, not knowing the pent-up emotions of the Cleveland Indians fans who have been denied a pennant since 1920, the celebration was a dejected mess today.

Court Opens Oleo Hearing

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—F. P. O'Connell, a lawyer, today argued today that the 40-year-old ban against margarine is within the jurisdiction of parliament.

The hearing is part of a legal challenge to the ban on margarine. The challenge is being brought by a group of margarine producers who argue that the ban is unconstitutional.

The hearing is expected to last several days. It will be a significant test of the federal government's power to regulate the food industry.

It Happened TODAY

Trade and Industry

A. R. Mahler, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, declared that organized labor wants benefits at the conclusion of any Canadian. Labor wants to see, he said, "all enjoy a fair share of the wealth of the nation."

Religion

In Montreal, Rev. C. Ritchie Bell, moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada, said "Canadians are far better church-goers than the British."

World

Anthony Eden, speaker at a Territorial Army Recruiting Rally in London, was heckled by rowdies who shouted communist slogans. It was the third demonstration at a rally in two days. Eden took the demonstrators where they would be now if England had gone down in 1940 when the communists refused to give help to the war effort.

A. R. MOSHER

... A fair share for all.

A conference of executives of the National Union of Mine Workers and the National Coal Board of Great Britain has called by Miles Minister Hugh Calverton to investigate the disappointing showing of the coal industry. Unless there is a sharp increase, production will run 4,000,000 tons short of this year's target.

The office of the Australian High Commissioner said today Canada is the mainstay of Australia's export trade in pineapples and dried fruits. Canada takes one-fifth of the total rainfall and current production and has ordered 300,000 cases of pineapples for this year.

The Nation

Housing for 43,000 families in Canada was provided during the first eight months of 1948, according to the Bureau of Statistics. They estimate 28 per cent of the housing units are built for rent, the remainder for occupancy by owners.

Canada's oldest ex-servicemen's organization, the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association, will consider a resolution to demand that the government provide compulsory military training for Canadians between 18 and 25 at their first west-coast convention in Victoria beginning Wednesday.

Dr. Charlotte Whitten, Ottawa welfare consultant, told a meeting of the National Ministerial Association that bargaining over social welfare is "coming close to the protection of the nation." It is, she said, a political matter with each party trying to outbid the others on old age pensions.

Nature

On the Trans-Canada highway, 42 miles from Fort William, a truck and mouse met one another at the crest of a hill. The mouse deliberated, charged, and died. But not before doing $50 damage to the fenders and hood of Larry Steff's truck.

Edmonton To Be CPA Headquarters Again

Reorganization of Canadian Pacific Airlines that will make Edmonton the headquarters for domestic operations is now underway, General Manager R. W. Ryan of CPA, said here today.

Approximately 100 employees will be moved from Winnipeg to Edmonton between now and Jan. 1, in addition to numerous local employees. The company now has 21 Douglas C-47s and 14 C-54s in operation in addition to numerous local planes, Mr. Ryan said.

The general manager said that CPA is proceeding steadily with plans to operate the Pacific routes from Vancouver to Seattle, New Zealand and by way of Alaska to London.

Head All Others as a Group

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—The Prince Edward Island town of Summerside, with $2,292, had the highest average income reported in tax returns from 51 selected municipalities. It collected total tax revenues of $1,317,000 in the 1947-48 fiscal year.

Doctors, with an average income of $7,466, did better financially than any other group. Canadian making less than $2,000 a year accumulated more than half the gross income reported by individual taxpayers in that year.

TAX COLLECTION COST It cost the federal government $102,000, a record and 50 per cent higher than the previous year. It collected total tax revenues of $1,317,000 in the 1947-48 fiscal year.

The taxation division of the revenue department disclosed these and many other figures today with publication of the third annual edition of its "green book," officially known as "Taxation Statistics."

It is loaded with answers to such questions as how many Canadians left estates of $100,000 or more in 1947-48. There are, it says, industries that have the highest taxable profits, the years are doing to tax revenues.

It shows that $233,132 Canadians paid tax. The total tax revenue was $1,317,000, and 52 per cent of that made less than $2,000. The total tax revenue was $1,317,000, and 52 per cent of that made less than $2,000.

Seven Killed By Cuban Hurricane

Through the Havana storm and past Miami exactly two weeks ago. In downtown Havana, police reported six deaths and 100 casualties were reported, however, and the looting was not widespread.

RIVERS FLOODED

Power was out in much of the city. Three rivers flooded their banks. The floodwaters were high for several hours. Rubble and fallen trees barred many streets.

Cuba's radio stations almost without exception were off the air. The storm caused a general collapse of communications.

Windows of the big apartment buildings and hotels were shattered by the powerful blasts. The huge storm surge sign above the flooded streets looked like a giant fist.

The hurricane warning issued in Miami had passed into the Florida Straits and was heading toward the Florida Keys and Cuba.

Hurricane warnings were ordered by the U.S. Navy. The storm, which had been expected to miss the capital city, veered unexpectedly to the north and struck the night, and crossed the Cuban coastline between Sagua and Mariel, a narrow 30 miles from Havana, and the city itself.

Violent rain. Hail, driven by violent gusts of wind, pounded the city, littering the streets with signs, broken glass and broken power lines.

All transportation was halted and the streets were flooded. The storm struck in full fury. Meanwhile, the south Florida coast was not yet reached by the vicious storm, braced for the blow.

Bains already were falling in Miami and moving northward toward Florida's Lake Okechobee, where a 1929 hurricane resulted in the drowning of 1,000 persons.

RED CROSS BUSY Red Cross workers rushed plans for 35 shelters here and readied a fleet of air boats to evacuate residents of flooded areas.

The Florida Keys would probably be the first to feel the storm, just as they did two weeks ago. Three shelters were ready in Key West and the naval air station at Boca Chica sent all aircraft to stations farther north.

WOODPECKER CALLS POLICE

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(CP)—A red-headed woodpecker drummed on the electric wiring of a building here today and was nabbed by police when he set off the burglar alarm.

The bird had broken into the building through a third-storey window. The police officer, after he had been alerted, was photographing the bird and made a drawing of it through a window when the bird was taken to the police station for investigation.

McNaughton told the committee there would be no world control of atomic energy unless it was based on the plan of the Western Powers. He said the Soviet Union would not budger from the principles laid down in the control blueprint first introduced by Bernard M. Baruch of the United States.

He said the plan was "free and flexible as regards details which must still be worked out." The plan was "free and flexible as regards details which must still be worked out."

Russ Plan Parachute Drills in Air Corridor

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Russians today notified the western powers that they plan parachute practice in the air corridor used by British and United States planes supplying the beleaguered Berlin.

The Soviet warplanes, said to be the four-power Berlin air force, said the drills will be to begin today from a 2,500-foot altitude.

The move did not specify how many men or planes were involved or how long the exercise would last. The drills were said to be in the Berlin corridor, used by the Western Powers to return supplies to the city.

Meanwhile, British handed the Russians a protest over yesterday's bombing of a British air-lift plane by a Yak fighter.

The protest said the Russian plane driven within 200 feet of the British plane in the Berlin corridor about 7 miles west of Berlin.

SPEECHLESS since a brain illness five years ago, Little John Wilson Reid, seven, Brisbane, Australia, leaves Los Angeles by air on the last lap of a TWA plane trip to Wichita, Kansas. John's father, a sportswriter, hopes an operation at the Institute of Logopedics there will help restore his speech.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Proof that John Lund is well on his way to top stardom: other studios are seeking to borrow him from Paramount.

Lund is being courted by 20th-Fox for the leading male role in "Come to the Sun." He would play a popular composer who seeks rest from the mad world at a country estate, only to be beset with some nuts who live next door. Lorena Young and Celeste Holm, will portray the leading roles.

Gumbo is eager to get back to work after all these years of inactivity. She calls Producer Walter Wanger regularly and talks about their future film.

PREDICTION DEPT.
Susan Hayward is my prediction for the screen's next top dramatic actress. She impresses more with each picture. Now two studios are seeking her services.—Columbia for "Anna Lucasta" and 20th-Fox for "Clock of Innocence."

The outlook is good for Richard Widmark. He'll go right from "Down to the Sea in Ships" to "Innocence." In which he'll get his first romantic interest. After five pictures in 14 months, Dick would just as soon have a little rest.

NOTES FROM LOTS
Yvonne Greenstreet is voiceless due to a cold.

Ava Gardner wants to get set after "The Great Sinner"—"no can get a mouthful of cold air."

Some slight: Joan Crawford followed around the Warner's lot by her four children and a nurse.

Jack Carson's hobby is looking to the origin of jokes. He traced one back to Roman times. That wouldn't surprise radio listeners.

Consort Mission Band Reconvenes

CONSORT, Oct. 5.—A mission band which includes little girls from the ages of 12 to 12, reconvened after the summer holidays under the capable leadership of Mrs. George Lambert. They are going to study about China and plan to make a lyric to be sent to a Chinese missionary for some needy mother. Mrs. H. Topham is in charge of the younger children.

Both groups have an executive made up of a president, secretary, treasurer, press reporter, worship service secretary, which change each month. The Consort Kolorpri carries a report each week of their meetings, which is composed by one of the children.

Braves Will Be Soft Touch for the Indians, Think Local Baseball Followers

"I LIKE THOSE INDIANS, too," Ted West, left, laughs off a proffered waiver by Jack Bourne. Both prominent golfers-businessmen were agreed the Indians shouldn't have too much trouble knocking off the Braves in the forthcoming world series.

FORMER OUTSTANDING football-basketball player Constable Ken Shaw has a spot all picked out on the Cleveland bandwagon. "The Indians should win easy," he thinks.

"WIN THE WORLD SERIES!" Miss Helen Rydman, of Mayor Ainley's office in the club repeated: "Why Cleveland, I guess. But frankly I haven't been following the baseball too closely."

JOHN FARINA, head of the Recreation Commission, shed his coffee cup long enough to prophesy a good time of it for the Indians. "Too much pitching, too much power," he put it. "Then there's that Indian strength through the middle."

Edmontonians Pick Indians Over Braves

Fans Climb Onto Cleveland Bandwagon in Great Numbers

If local baseball followers have the correct alert on the upcoming World Series it appears the Boston Braves don't even belong in the same classic with Cleveland's Cindere-like Indians.

Edmontonians have climbed onto the Cleveland bandwagon in great numbers and the doings in Boston Monday, as Lou Bourne, and his gang flattered the Red Sox for keeps, naturally haven't caused any let up in enthusiasm where the chances of the Indians are concerned.

Here's how a number of the customers, who participated in a poll conducted by THE BULLETIN, expect the series opening Wednesday at Braves' Field in Boston:

SUPERIOR DEFENSE
Dr. Andy O'Neill, No. 1 Chicago Cub fan in these parts: "The Indians will win because they are superior on defense and have greater reserve strength. This should more than offset Boston's better pitching. I look for the series to go the limit of seven games."

Mr. Justice Hugh Macdonald, former slurry amateur infielder, offers the Indians to take it all in "but more than six games." He thinks Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn, Braves' one-two pitching punch, will win a game apiece but the rest will go to the Clevelanders. Otherwise the Indians have "too much pitching, as well as a superior second base combination in Bourne and Gordon."

Peter Cornelius, of the Varsity harrier shop, doesn't think the Braves will win the series because five games due to the superior hitting and pitching of the American league champions while Frank Curvie, Flyers hockey coach, is stringing along with Lou Bourne's fighting men because "the American league is the stronger league."

By way of a change of pace offering Steve Machin, operator of a beauty parlor, makes out a case for the Braves to win in seven games. "They are an all round better club," he puts it. "I think they'll enjoy a slight edge."

Hal Straight, publisher of The Bulletin and a longtime outstanding southpaw hurler along the Pacific coast, also gets in a plug for the National League representative. "I'm stringing along with the Braves because of the fact that Southworth. He'll make enough good moves to put the Braves on the throne in six games."

DUCEY LINES INDIANS
As might be expected John Ducey had an idea or two about the probable outcome of the 1948 series. He, like so many others, is in the Cleveland corner. Mr. Ducey did not go off half-cocked. He is quoted on being permitted a quick review of the averages, following which he picked the Indians "in seven games."

"The Indians have more power. They are strong through the middle. Loumuse was certain to think of this one because in Bourne and Gordon they have the greatest double play combination in baseball. They should make it," Ducey analyzed.

ERIC DUGGAN, former prominent athlete-football official, can't see anything but one thing. "More power and better pitching should settle the Braves in six games."

"After all," he wanted to know, "have the Braves got except 'Stinky' Stanley and he's been on the injured list hasn't he?"

It is not all, but by no means least, Martin Hodgson, big man of the composing room, also put the finger on the Indians. "I don't know and Bourne will swing it their way. However, I look for it to be the last series game."

HERE'S AN EASY WAY TO SAVE SOME DOUGH

Attention readers, . . . Here's a chance to win yourself (a) two tickets to the Golden Bear-Saskatchewan Roughrider football game scheduled for Clarke Stadium, Oct. 26 OR (b) a couple of ducks to your favorite theatre.

And the question: On the basis of names alone what player eligible for service in the World Series opening Wednesday "belongs" more than any other?

Calgary's Gridders Wallop Bombers 26-6

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Calgary Stampede were assured today of finishing on top of the Western Canada Senior Football conference following their 26-6 win over Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday night. It was the Alberta club's eighth consecutive victory this season in league play.

Field on even terms in the first quarter, when each club counted one point, the rampaging Stampede moved along in the second half to lead 10-1, increased their lead to 14-1 in the third and continued pressing in the final session to make doubt about victory.

The loss for Winnipeg, its fifth in eight games, kept alive the flickering hopes of the cellar-dwelling Saskatchewan Roughriders for a playoff berth. With all clubs having four remaining games to play, Blue Bombers have won three games of six points, while Roughriders have one victory behind them.

Calgary is assured of top place in the three-team loop, its eighth win to date exceeding the best that either of the other two teams can do even if they should win all remaining games.

A crowd of 8,800 saw Stampede make their first major score in the second quarter when Keith Spahn crossed the line. The heavy scoring continued in the final quarter, with the bullet-headed Spahn tossing touchdown passes to Fritz Hanson and Woody Strode. Elton Holson scored bombers' lone touchdown on a forward pass play from Bob Sandberg.

Oakland Wins PCL Semi-Final
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Oakland Oaks won a semi-final Pacific Coast League playoff Monday night, defeating Los Angeles 11-10 in 10 innings for a 4-2 margin.

The victory sends Oakland against Seattle at Oakland Wednesday night in the first of two games for the final Governor's Cup playoff.

No reason was given for the break but there have been reports that Harris and Weiss did not see eye to eye in the handling of farm talent.

Harris' plans were not known immediately. Rumors are he will join the Detroit Tigers in some executive capacity.

Tempers Flare as Stamps Tounce Dynamiters 6-1

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Oct. 5.—(CP)—Calgary Stampede scored a 6-1 victory over Kimberley Dynamiters Monday night in the second of a two-game exhibition series. Tempers flared in the last period and punches were thrown at random.

Butch McDonald opened the scoring for Calgary in the first two minutes of play and Stan Devick made the first period score 2-1 after Kovashak had evened the edge in play all through the count half way through the season.

A Cully from McDonald counter put Stampede two up as they held the edge in play all through the second period.

Chuck Millman scored off a solo in the final period. Vic Kerkewick and Denny Huddleston added the others.

For Calgary McDonald starred with a goal and two assists and the defence of Denny Huddleston and Millman put a hobble on Dynamiters' passing game.

Red Deer Enters Intermediate Loop

RED DEER, Oct. 5.—Red Deer plans to enter the Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey League, bringing to at least four the number of teams that will be in the loop this season. Waterloo Mercers, Camrose Maroons and Wetaskiwin Canadians are the other entrants so far while Ponoka Stampede are a possible entry.

The Red Deer Athletic Association has taken over operation of the team, which last year captured the Central Alberta Intermediate league championship at 78th Battersy Grounds.

Millard Signs With Stampede

CALGARY, Oct. 5.—(CP)—Johnny Millard, left winger from last season, was added to the roster of Calgary's hockey Stampede when he signed on the dotted line Monday.

Millard, 21, is the eighth new player to join the club this season. Eight members of last year's club have also signed contracts. Naive of Kenora, Ont., Millard weighs 180 pounds and was among the top 12 scorers in the Pacific Coast hockey league last season.

Stan Musial Inks 2-Year Contract

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Stan (The Man) Musial joined Manager Eddie Dyer yesterday in reaching a two-year agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stan signed the contract, which calls for "a substantial increase" after a 15-minute talk with Redbird President Robert E. Hannagan.

Neither Musial, nor Hannagan would say what salary the new terms called for, but most sources estimated it would bring the slug-jug Cardinal outfielder around $50,000 a year.

Indians Whoop It Up Following Big Game

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
BOSTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—While the screaming victory celebration in the visitors dressing room at Fenway Park was at its height Monday, Lou Bourne called a meeting of the Cleveland Indians.

That's an indication of how the Indians took their 8-3 victory over the Red Sox in the first pennant playoff in American league history.

They celebrated, joyously and noisily. But there always was a note of solemnity. They will have to face a World Series with the Boston Braves.

Bourne had little to say about his own part in the game except that his two home runs both were hit off curve balls. He preferred to talk about Beards.

"I wasn't concerned about his pitching with only one day's rest," Bourne said. "He's that type."

Beards, the battered leaver who personally led his team to triumph, conducted a serious question-and-answer session with a horde of reporters.

Gene Beards, the lean left-handed pitcher who came back to win after only one day's rest, posed and clenched willingly for photographers but seemed more concerned about the state of his battered sweat shirt.

"I only won 10 straight with it. Don't let anything happen now," Beards shouted at exultant teammates hoisted him to their shoulders.

As to his pitching, Beards explained:

Now is the time to drive in to Price Andrews and have your car put in shape for fall driving! Lubrication . . . Brake adjustment . . . motor . . . ignition . . . will be checked to add to your driving pleasure!

These Bright Beulah Home Babies Need Community Chest Support

BRAVELY FACING the world under a big handicap children of unmarried mothers at Beulah Home and Baby Cottage, depend to a large extent on Community Chest funds. Annual Chest Drive for $148,500 is now in full swing. Pretty baby Carol, 13 months, would say a mouthful if she didn't have her hand in her mouth.

THERE'S NO RACIAL discrimination for babies at the Beulah Home. Babies of all races and nationalities have a happy home in the Red Feather institution directed by Superintendent Mrs. M. A. Finlay. Dovie, a pretty negro child of eight and one half months, will have a better start if Chest coffers are well-filled.

IT'S A CASE of getting in on the ground floor with little Sylvester, seven months. Already cognizant of the fact that a fellow has to crawl before he can walk, little "Silver", as the nurses call him, is getting in a lot of down-to-earth mileage. Pretty soon he'll be able to cavort for the Community Chest Drive.—Photo by Stand

THERE'S NOTHING so truly beautiful as a rag doll and how little Donald, resident of 10 months at Beulah Home, loves to hug that doll. Simple toys like Donald's rag doll cost money in the aggregate. About the only source is the Community Chest. Every dollar means more happiness for babies like these.

DP Doctors Coming Here Face Stiff License Bars

Displaced Person doctors must have qualifications equal to those of the person to whom they are licensed to practice in this province. Dr. W. Bramley-Moore, registrar of the Alberta College of Physicians and Surgeons, today explained the situation concerning DP medical men coming to Canada with the intention of practicing medicine. Said Dr. Bramley-Moore: "The first thing any person, other than a graduate of the University of Alberta, must do to submit evidence to the university that his medical training is a satisfactory equivalent to that obtained at the U. of A."

"He must take all his documents to the University of Alberta, which will then issue a certificate which allows the applicant to serve an internship of one year in an approved hospital anywhere in Canada. 'After the internship has been completed to the satisfaction of medical governing authorities, the person must write the examination of the Medical Council of Canada. Having successfully passed this examination such person is eligible to practice medicine anywhere in Canada.'"

Safeguards such as the Alberta medical governing bodies are doing are for the sole purpose of guaranteeing the best possible qualifications of doctors coming to Canada from other parts of the world, Dr. Bramley-Moore said. "Experience since the war has proved that medical men who trained in Europe since 1938 do not possess the qualifications required to practice medicine on the North American Continent, in many instances," the registrar stated.

TRAINING DIFFICULTIES He said that medical governing bodies in Canada are convinced that conditions in Europe during the war and also would prevent medical graduates from attaining the high standards required in this country. He said the Nazi occupation, followed by the Russian occupation, were two factors that would prevent European medical schools from maintaining the best standards.

Observing that DP medical men are coming to Canada as "specialists" he pointed out that all specialists must be so designated by the University of Alberta to hold such ratings in this province. Canadian medical governing bodies take the view that the Dominion government should see that these qualifications necessary to displaced person doctors prior to practice in this country before being urged to come here as professionals, the Alberta official said.

New Comitee On Spelling Is Apointed

Status of the "u" in "color" and the second "t" in "wolverine" may soon be officially determined. A committee appointed by the Canadian Education Association will study the possibility of developing uniform simplified spelling of these and similar words.

Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education for Alberta, is one of the members of the three-man committee.

He was appointed at the recent convention of the Canadian Education Association in Winnipeg. Report of the committee will be made at the association's convention in the findings of the committee will be recommended for adoption in schools throughout Canada and will be incorporated into text books, Dr. Swift said.

Department of education officials attending the convention were: Dr. Swift, H. E. Balfour, M. L. Watts and D. M. Sullivan. Local school board superintendents, R. S. Sheppard and A. A. O'Brien also attended.

Dr. M. E. Lasserre, dean of the faculty of education, University of Canada, presented a report to the convention dealing with the status of the teaching profession.

The report, made at the request of provincial ministers of education, will be printed and circulated to educational groups.

'Retired' Edmontonian Is Busier Than Ever

Indian women in B.C. and Alberta have been paid $100,000 in the past year by a former Edmonton business man for turning out high class novelty clothing.

The ex-Edmontonian, visiting here for a few days, W. Kelly Porter, former president of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Club, is onetime manager of Lodge Piano House here.

Mr. Porter is now operating the Portland Novelty Store in Victoria, where he does a thriving business selling Indian handicraft work to tourists.

He has just completed a long trip by chartered plane to remote sections of the province, where he has orders with expert Indian women handcraft workers.

"I went to the coast to retire a few years ago and I'm busier than I've ever been," Mr. Porter said. Buckskin jackets, furs and fancy neck pieces are the chief articles in demand in Mr. Porter's Victoria store.

Arctic Flying Problems Gradually Being Solved

The problems of Arctic flying are just one "colossal logistics headache," Wing Commander A. M. "Archie" Cameron, the man in charge of the RCAF's Winter Experimental Unit in Edmonton, said the problem is one of supplying efficient equipment and provisions for sub-zero operations.

Logistics is the science of military transport and supply. But Wing Commander Cameron said the difficulties of flying in far below-zero temperatures are being licked gradually. Yet engines, he indicated, may be the answer. They have simpler construction, fewer moving parts, and are much easier to cope with when starting in the cold.

HAVE DISADVANTAGES Their two great disadvantages are formation of ice on the air intake and (another one of supply) their greater fuel consumption. So far, he said, experimenters have been unable to solve the difficulty of ice formation, which presents another supply problem.

"I don't see double-personnel as the final answer," he explained. "It is best to operate with the normal number. That's the aim of present experiments."

Equipment of all kinds presents unusual problems in the Arctic. Batteries are weaker when cold, oil congeals and gasoline freezes into the engine in drops instead of mist.

CLOTHING PROBLEM Crews must have special emergency equipment, including a radio device which will start broadcasting when they make a forced landing, clothing which can preserve them from the rigors of the cold.

Mr. Scott said in a visit to Edmonton distributors for the next two or three days.

Adult Nutrition Habits Have Important Effect

By Josephine Lowman

There is a science today called geriatrics, or hygiene for older people. The most interesting facts gleaned from research are those which have to do with nutrition. In the past the emphasis in nutrition was placed on the feeding and care of infants and children. Today older folk are getting a "break."

At the turn of the century there were only 23 million people 45 years or older in the United States. Ten years ago there were 30 million in this age group. Today there are 36 million.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Parental Enthusiasm Builds Confidence

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Now that the first excitement of your child's going to school is over, how much interest do you display in his daily work? However meager and unrecognizable the picture he brings home, however disappointed the story, do you look and listen and make them seem important to the child?

You've seen some adults who cannot look at a child's first efforts at art without pointing out its deficiencies. "But darling, the little girl has no arms. There, for the first time, he sees his picture as less than perfect. It will be to him to be proud of his picture what can be seen.

There are parents who either ignore or laugh at everything the child tells them. They guffaw over his mistakes and repeat them endlessly to other adults. Soon the child has learned his lesson and he is mum about what he does.

There are parents who know that his experiences seem not precious and wonderful but only ridiculous to his parents. School days are significant ones to the child. He is exploring new fields of activity and skills and he is just as excited over each day's happenings as if he were the first pupil in the first school.

The parent must go along with him in enthusiasm every step of the way. She must listen, exclaim, ask questions and praise. If she points out faults he comes to see only those and not the rest of his accomplishments.

Know the child who is failing and uninterested and back of him you are apt to see parents who are also indifferent to what is happening to him. It is such parents who are eager to turn the child over to the teacher and wash their hands of school and its activities.

When they do, the child feels a heightened sense of his own value. School work then is neither joy nor challenge, just a place of bondage.

Our leaflet No. 74 "Help You May Use From Books" offers some books dealing with school difficulties. The leaflet may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Bulletin.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—Neglected Wives Have Lost Husband's Love

When a middle-aged wife loses her husband to a younger and fairer charmer, she almost invariably lays the blame for it on her age and looks. That sounds like a plausible alibi for being a deserted wife, for it is undeniable that no woman can stay a perpetual sweet-and-twenty, nor is there any known method of retaining a peaches-and-cream complexion after one passes the deadline.

Now if all men worshipped at the shrine of Venus, and held them with a single hair, as the poets insist, it would be logical for a husband's devotion to his wife to be in direct ratio to her physical beauty, and for it to cool off as the gained weight and lost her figure.

But such is seldom, if ever, the case. As a matter of fact, while men give lip service to women's beauty, they rarely marry for it, as is amply proved by the number of ladies who know who possess husbands, not one of whom has a face that would launch a canoe, to say nothing of a thousand ships.

If men do not marry for beauty when they are young, still less do they discard an old wife because she has acquired a few wrinkles and her hair has begun to turn gray.

Indeed, the average husband rarely sees his wife as she is. She is just a woman who looked good to him when he married her, and who looks good to him when they celebrate their Golden Wedding.

SELFISHNESS TO BLAME
So the woman who can't keep her husband has to have a better excuse for losing him than claim that he ditched her because she was no longer Miss America.

Generally the reason was that she was one of the selfish, cold, dictatorial women who regard a husband as nothing but a moral ticket and a check account, and who never lift a finger to make him happy, or even give him something fit to eat.

Quinine was isolated for the first time in 1820.

Mrs. Meier Enthuses Over Role in Play

Role of Virgin Mary in Passion Play Played by Charming Mrs. Josef Meier

By GEORGINA YULE

On her first tour of Canada, Mrs. Josef Meier expressed herself as thrilled with the spectacular beauty of a Canadian fall.

Mrs. Meier will appear in the role of the Virgin Mary in the famous Black Hills Passion Play, which opens tonight at the Strand theatre.

Her enjoyment of the role was obvious from the enthusiastic way in which she spoke of the historical importance of the play and its own year tradition.

A charming blue-eyed blonde, dressed in a smart suit of navy blue, with soft white blouse, Mrs. Meier found time this morning to chat about her busy life as an actress in the world's greatest stage hit.

A native of Chicago, Mrs. Meier, whose maiden name is Clara Hume, grew up and went to school in that city. Later she attended Northwestern University, where she took her degree in journalism.

It was natural, however, that she should turn to the stage, her grandfather having been a dramatic critic and her father and mother both noted actors.

"Mrs. Meier joined the Passion Play company 13 years ago. It was while with the company that she met and married Mr. Meier, who came to America in 1932 as a member of the original German Passion Play cast and stayed to organize the Black Hills company.

During the summer months the home of the Meiers is in the Black Hills region of South Dakota, which her husband selected in 1928 as the scene of a natural amphitheatre. The topography and climate of this region make it so nearly ideal as the site for an outdoor performance that it has been purchased for the purpose and is now being developed.

From September until May, the company is on the road. Described herself as a "creature of routine," Mrs. Meier said that she enjoys travelling about the country for nine months out of every year. She has to have every minute of her time planned, and this is essential to her life. In winter months, she schedules and public appearances play to large a part.

The Meiers have one daughter, Johanna, who is at present at school in the States. Now ten years old, Johanna became a member of the company when she was one month old and stayed until she was eight. According to her mother, Johanna described the experience as "very interesting."
